Where's the "bird"?

Wishing you a Compassionate Thanksgiving celebration

Try a Cruelty-Free Thanksgiving This Year & Lose the Turkey.
You won't miss it!

Turkeys have personalities as distinct and varied as cats or dogs; however, like other animals raised in factory farms, turkeys are subjected to horrible, cramped, and unsanitary conditions. Around 99 percent of turkeys raised in the U.S. come from factory farms.

What's even worse is that turkeys at so-called "free range" or "organic" farms generally aren't treated any better.

In accordance with industry standards, these turkeys also have their sensitive beaks cut off with a hot blade and have to live in extremely crowded, filthy sheds.

Make your plate this year without turkey

Please remember to buy only pasture-raised eggs and pass this email to your mailing list. Thank you! Lois
